Dear Dr. Zhu:

Thank you for addressing the comments raised by the referees in this revision; I am pleased to accept your manuscript, "Optimizing the Implementation Plan of Watershed Best Management Practices with Time-varying Effectiveness under Stepwise Investment" [Paper #2022WR032986RRRR], for publication in Water Resources Research.

The publication-ready files you provided at revision will be forwarded to our publishing partner, Wiley, who will manage the production process. Within a few weeks, you should receive an email with instructions on how to access your proof. If you have questions, please contact WRCRprod@wiley.com.

Please note that after a paper is accepted, no changes of a technical or substantive nature can be made without obtaining the Editor's approval.

Next Steps

- Upon receipt of the Wiley Author Services, completing the necessary forms and enable tracking of the progress of your paper through production.
- All questions regarding this process should be directed to Wiley at the contact information provided in the Author Services email.
- To see your paper's process, please look at our <https://www.agu.org/Publish-with-AGU/Publish> target="_blank"> "Guide to Publishing with AGU" infographic.

Peer review relies on volunteers.

- Please remember the volunteers who provided independent evaluations of your submission.
- Make every effort to support WRR by agreeing to provide a review when called upon.

WRR accepts submissions for potential cover images.

- Cover images may be taken from papers, or they may be images or photographs which relate to a paper but do not appear in the paper.
- Cover images should be in color and have a resolution of at least 300 dpi.
- If you would like to submit an image for consideration, please send it (along with a short caption) to wrr@agu.org.

Work with AGU to promote your paper.

- Promotion accelerates the exchange of knowledge and gets your work out to a broader audience. Let us know if your institution is issuing a press release.
- Please let us know what you think is interesting about your research and how it will shape future research or understanding in this field.

You will receive an email with a link to an online survey regarding your experience with the peer review process for this submission. Your comments will help us improve AGU journals and service to authors.

Thank you for submitting your best work to Water Resources Research.

Sincerely,

Jim Hall
Editor
Water Resources Research
